

I Stayed to Watch Your Joy

Oh, little one, let me explain,
Why I didn't move—I'll take the blame.
I saw your family, so full of cheer,
I couldn't resist staying right here.
Your laughter and kindness lit up the night,
A glow so warm, so merry, so bright.
I watched you share, I watched you play,
And it filled my heart in the best kind
of way.

Santa always says, "Find the joy!"
In every girl and every boy.
So I stayed behind, my job was clear—
To soak in the magic that's truly here.
But don't you worry, I'll move tonight,
To a new spot, a fun delight.
Keep spreading your cheer, keep
shining bright,
You're on the nice list—oh, what a sight!
