

Official Letter From The North Pole

We wanted to send you a special update about your elf!

After a little mishap, your elf needed some extra TLC here at the Elf Recovery Center. With lots of magic, snowflake sprinkles, and even a warm hug from Mrs. Claus, your elf is feeling much better and is ready to get back to their holiday fun!

Your elf couldn't stop talking about you while they were resting. They are so proud of how kind and thoughtful you've been this season. In fact, your good deeds were shared with Santa, and he gave your elf a special mission: to keep encouraging you to spread joy and love.

You can expect your elf back at your home soon! They're bringing lots of holiday cheer and maybe even a little surprise (if you're watching closely!).

Thank you for taking such good care of your elf while they were away. Remember, even elves need a little magic break now and then!

*With warm wishes and candy cane sprinkles,
Dr. Jingle Bright
Chief Elf Healer
North Pole Elf Recovery Center*

Official Letter From The North Pole

We wanted to send you a special update about your elf!

After a little mishap, your elf needed some extra TLC here at the Elf Recovery Center. With lots of magic, snowflake sprinkles, and even a warm hug from Mrs. Claus, your elf is feeling much better and is ready to get back to their holiday fun!

Your elf couldn't stop talking about you while they were resting. They are so proud of how kind and thoughtful you've been this season. In fact, your good deeds were shared with Santa, and he gave your elf a special mission: to keep encouraging you to spread joy and love.

You can expect your elf back at your home soon! They're bringing lots of holiday cheer and maybe even a little surprise (if you're watching closely!).

Thank you for taking such good care of your elf while they were away. Remember, even elves need a little magic break now and then!

*With warm wishes and candy cane sprinkles,
Dr. Jingle Bright
Chief Elf Healer
North Pole Elf Recovery Center*

